Vocational education / labour market	The new Cooperation Organisation for Vocational Education, Training and the Labour Market (SBB) began on 1 August 2015. Vocational education and business, trade and industry collaborate within SBB to provide students with the best possible practical training with a view to gaining employment. Businesses are thus provided with the most highly qualified professionals. Now and in the future, work placement companies can therefore count on support with training young professionals in practice. SBB is responsible for accrediting and coaching work placement companies, maintaining the qualification framework for secondary vocational education and looking after the labour market, professional practical training and suitability information. The education and business, trade and industry sectors also set up agreements with SBB regarding professional training and business, trade and industry issues, such as qualifications and exams, professional practical training and suitability. SBB works on a sector, regional and national level.	High quality work placements	Work placements	All dutch Vet Schools + all accredited companies.
